Fischer Named SIU Board Chairman in Last Meeting for 3 Retiring Trustees

Harold Fischer, Granite City banker, was named chairman of the Southern Illinois University board of trustees Friday.

His election was the first order of business in a reorganization meeting of the SIU Board at Carbondale before the board moved into its new quarters at the new building.

The session was the last for three members of the SIU board as constituted before the reappointment of three new members last week by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie.

Veteran Trustee Lindell Sturgis turned the chairman's gavel over to Fischer, immediately following the reorganization.

Sturgis, a Metropolitan banker and one of the three retiring trustees, has served the SIU Board since its inception in 1949.

Before that, he helped govern SIU as a member of the old Illinois Teachers College Board.

Sturgis said his leaving recalled words of General Douglas MacArthur: "I tried to do that right as God gave me the light to do that right."

Ivan Elliott, Jr., Carmi, was elected vice-chairman, the post formerly held by Fischer. Outgoing secretary Melvin Lockard of Mattoon was replaced on the board's executive roster by Dr. Martin Van Brown of Carbondale.

The other departing trustee is Guy Hitt of Benton. None of the three new appointees was present.

Sturgis said his leaving recalled words of General Douglas MacArthur: "I tried to do that right as God gave me the light to do that right."

Eilerman, Brinkhoff Award Winners

Ted Eilerman, assistant administrator at St. Elizabeth Hospital and active civic leader, was named winner of the "Distinguished Service Award" for 1970 at the Granite City Jaycees' 11th annual awards banquet, held Thursday evening at the Rose Bowl restaurant.

Sharing the spotlight with the DSA winner was Richard W. Brinkhoff, director of Service and Demonstration Center at Parkway Elementary School, who received the Jaycees' "Outstanding Young Educator Award" for exceptional service in the field of education.

A third honoree whose achievements were recognized was Mark Mitzel, Granite City High School All-American football player. The youthful athlete was greeted with a burst of applause when introduced received four different awards at the Jaycee banquet.

More than 100 Jaycees and their guests witnessed the awards program and heard future prospects of the St. Louis Football Cardinals related by Dave L. Williams, wide receiver for the National Football League team and the evening's featured speaker.

Candidates Honored
Jaycee President David Partney also presented "Certificates of Appreciation" to five runner-up contestants in the 1970 DSA-OYE program.

Taxpayers Group Offers Aid in Selecting City Sewer Engineer

The board of directors of the Tri-Cities Taxpayers' Public Expenditure Survey Group decided in a meeting today to offer the Granite City council the advice and assistance of local plant industrial engineers to aid in the selection of an engineering firm to handle the planning for a new secondary sewage treatment plant and a system of interceptor sanitary sewers.

The directors of the Taxpayers' Committee met in the Rose Bowl Restaurant in review of the operation of the city's present sewage treatment plant and the controversy over selection of an engineer to design and supervise construction of second primary facilities by Dec. 31, 1972. The issue was the subject of more than an hour's debate in last Monday's council session and was deferred until this week.

William F. Hoelscher, secretary-treasurer of the group, told the directors, "It is apparent that the question of employment of an engineering firm for the secondary treatment plant has become a political football in the city council."

"The secondary treatment plant will not only cost some $5 to $6 million when completed but its design and construction are highly technical matters far too important to have the engineering firm selected on a political basis without proper regard to the firm's size, experience, proven technical competence and reputation."

The Taxpayers' Board also ordered a complete audit and financial study of the current Granite City Sewerage Treatment Plant operations. In recommending the action, Hoelscher said:

"There is increasing evidence that employment at the treatment plant is beginning to exceed operational need. The plant may be subject to over-staffing and base labor rate is currently high in comparison with firemen and policemen rates."

"It is time for citizen interest to be focused on this matter."

15 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

The city council is scheduled to resume discussion tonight of the selection of an engineering firm for the treatment plant project. The issue was the subject of more than an hour's debate in last Monday's council session and was deferred until this week.

Plans call for construction of six multi-purpose athletic fields and 12 tennis courts in the northwest quadrant of the campus near the site of the proposed new physical education building. Project cost is estimated at $331,000, including $24,000 in architectural and engineering fees.

The Illinois General Assembly has appropriated $245,000 for the project and these funds have been released for expenditure. The University will provide an additional $86,000, with half coming from athletic funds and half from the Student Welfare and Recreation Building trust fund.

Facilities will be used in student recreation programs and for intercollegiate athletic events in addition to physical education classes.

The architectural firm of Hansen, Nakawatsa, Rutkowski and Wynn, Inc., of Chicago will provide architectural, landscape and civil engineering services for the design of the facilities.

Festival Funds Denied

If the Mississippi River Festival is to be held this year at Southwestern University-Southwestern, it will be financed by sources other than Southern Illinois University.

Trustees of Southern Illinois University declined Friday to endorse annual budgetary support for the Festival. The proposal would have provided $150,000 a year toward Festival expenses.

Board members indicated they were in favor of the Festival and that their decision was made with regret, for economic reasons. The vote was 4 to 3 against a 1971 supporting grant.

Board member William Allen suggested that Mississippi River Festival, Inc. request funding from the Illinois Assembly, similar to funds provided by the Assembly to support summer programs of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

The Mississippi River Festival was begun in 1969 as a joint venture of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern and the St. Louis Symphony Society.

Six Weeks Program
During the summers of 1969 and 1970, the Festival presented six weeks of concerts by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra and visiting classical, pop, rock and folk artists under a huge tent on the Southwestern campus.

The 1970 Festival was financed by a $75,000 grant from the University and a matching sum from St. Louis Metropolitan area citizens who organized Mississippi River Festival, Inc., as a not-for-profit organization.

Attendance at the 1970 Festival was 115,440, an increase of 33.7 per cent. Performances by the symphony and guest artists drew praise from critics who termed the season a cultural and artistic success.

The board's action leaves hope for a 1971 season in doubt. Festival supporters have indicated they do not feel that a public subscription campaign, such as was held last year, will be possible.

Harold Fischer of Granite City, who earlier in Friday's meeting was named chairman of the board, moved for approval of the River Festival program. Trustees F. Guy Hitt and Melvin Lockard joined him in supporting the program, but Board Members Allen, Ivan A. Elliott Jr., Lindell Sturgis and Dr. Martin Van Brown voted against it.

Suggests State Aid
Sturgis suggested the program should be underwritten by St. Louis because "this is their program," while Allen pointed out that funds might be available from the legislature since the state contributes to support of the Chicago Symphony's Ravinia Music Festival with funds contributed through the state-sponsored Illinois Arts Council.

"I would hate to see the Mississippi River Festival die," Allen commented.

Elliott told the board that he thought the River Festival program is "rather expensive for the academic benefits we get from it."

John Rendleman, chancellor of SIU-SW, in response to a question by Dr. Brown as to where the $150,000 would come from, said that about $50,000 would be in state funds already budgeted and that the rest could come out of $224,000 in overhead funds for which there is no present commitment. Rendleman said that the $150,000 would be used to pay most of an anticipated $169,000 deficit for the 1971 season.

Dr. Brown said he could not support the program because the university is in deep financial trouble. He told the board that the "bleak financial picture scares me."

$400,000 Freed for Horseshoe Lake Land

The Illinois Department of Conservation will begin purchasing land for a state park around Horseshoe Lake with $400,000 in state funds released by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie. About six small landowners have received offers for their property, thus far and agreements have been reached with four, according to Robert Corrigan, Conservation Department supervisor of land acquisitions.

Corrigan, who estimated the amount of land involved at about two acres, said delays in completing title and appraisal work has slowed the state's interest in the land purchases.

Land originally was to be purchased last summer, but Corrigan said Saturday the department did not expect to have most of the property until next fall. The Illinois General Assembly appropriated $2 million for the land purchase to establish the new Horseshoe Lake State Park in 1969.

Miss GC Pageant Set At Washington Theatre

The 1971 Miss Granite City Pageant will be staged at the Washington Theatre on 19th Street, it was announced this week by David Partney, president of the Granite City Jaycees.

The young men's service group annually sponsors the local beauty-talent contest, the initial step to the Miss Illinois crown and an opportunity to compete for the Miss America title.

Partney announced at a meeting of Jaycee members that the Washington Theatre had been secured due to the disastrous fire on Nov. 30 at Granite City High School, which destroyed the auditorium. The beauty-talent pageant has been staged since its inception here more than a decade ago.

Jay Langenstein was named as general chairman of this year's Miss Granite City Pageant. A date for the contest has not yet been set, Partney said.

In other business, Dick Mizell, Jaycee "Radio Day" chairman, announced the benefit project will be conducted by local Jaycees from 6 p.m. March 27, to 6 a.m. March 28, on the local radio station's FM facilities.

Proceeds from the annual project will be used to further charitable endeavors sponsored by the Granite City Jaycees, Mizell said.

Duccini Retires as Major After 22 Years

Alex Duccini, former Civilian Personnel Officer at the Granite City Army Depot from 1946 to 1969, was presented a certificate of retirement as an officer of the U.S. Army in recent ceremonies held at the Depot.

Making the presentation was Lieutenant Colonel John A. Hengel, Depot commanding officer. Duccini retired after 22 years active and reserve duty in the U.S. Armed Forces with the rank of Major.

Now employed in the Granite City office of the Illinois State Employment Service, Duccini completed 32 years of service with the Federal Civil Service prior to leaving the Depot last year.

Prenatal Instruction Series Starts March 1

All prospective parents in the Quad-City area are invited to attend the first series of prenatal instruction classes to be offered again this Spring at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Sister Mary Jerome, class leader, said both the prospective father and mother will find the program beneficial and invited the parents-to-be to take part in the five-week series which is scheduled to start Monday evening, March 1.

Classes will be conducted on five consecutive Mondays, beginning at 7:30 p.m., in the Wiesman Room of the hospital. The class is located on the first floor of St. Elizabeth, near the chapel. Sister M. Jerome advised.

Subjects to be discussed in sequence, include: "Before the Baby Comes," March 1; "During Pregnancy," March 8; "Labor and Delivery," March 15; "Child Care—Baby Bath," March 22; and "Nursing" and a tour of the hospital's maternity department on March 29. Movies and other visual aids will be used during the instruction program.

Additional information concerning the prenatal program may be obtained by calling 876-2020, Station 310, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. week days.

The second series of classes will start April 12, Sister M. Jerome said.

Percy Appointed to Senate Appropriations Committee

Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has released a list of his new committee and subcommittee assignments for the 92nd Congress. Percy has given up his position on the Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee to take a position on the Senate Appropriations Committee. The list of Percy's assignment follows:

Government Operations Committee (Acting ranking minority member), Subcommittee on Permanent Investigations (ranking), and Subcommittee on Executive Reorganization and Government Research.

Appropriations Committee, Subcommittee on Interior (ranking), Subcommittee on District of Columbia (ranking), Subcommittee on Labor and Health, Education and Welfare, Subcommittee on Military Construction, Subcommittee on General Appropriations, Subcommittee on HUD and Independent Offices.

Select Committee on Nutrition, Subcommittee on Nutritional Needs, Subcommittee on Economic Progress, Subcommittee on Economy in Government, Subcommittee on Urban Affairs, Subcommittee on International Exchange and Payments, Subcommittee on Fiscal Policy.

"I am pleased with my new post on the Appropriations Committee," Percy said. "Spending priorities for America are a great challenge and I look forward to serving on the committee which, to a very large degree, determines those priorities."

Percy said, "While I was somewhat reluctant to relinquish my seniority on the Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee to make the move, I will have subcommittee responsibilities in the same areas as a member of the Appropriations Committee, and I am pleased to know the Democrats have assigned Sen. Adlai Stevenson to serve on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs, so that Illinois will still be represented on that committee."

Sen. Percy's position as acting or ranking minority member of committees and subcommittees was made possible by the seniority changes made this year by the Republican caucus permitting a senior Republican to serve as ranking member of no more than one standing and one joint committee.

Army Needs, Will Train Ammunition Experts

Today, an expert in ammunition must be familiar with a variety of shells, missiles and rockets as well as many different types of explosives. He must also know how and where to store them.

Training for such a job in the U.S. Army is accomplished at the Army's Missile and Munitions Center and School, Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Alabama. There, students attend an 11-week course in ammunition storage.

They learn about storage, shipments, issue, safety and security of ammunition components and other components. The school also teaches the proper procedures and techniques in identification, packing and marking of ammunition.

More information may be obtained from the Army Recruiting Officer, 1200 Niedringhaus Ave., or call 876-5550.

Morale of Wounded GI Is Good, Wife Told

Messages received late last week through the Tri-City Red Cross Chapter and from U. S. military authorities report that Army Sergeant Ronald E. Labory Sr., 21, is showing improvement although still listed as seriously ill at a hospital in Vietnam.

Sgt. Labory, husband of Mrs. Leta (Campbell) Labory and the father of an 11-month-old son, Ronald, suffered the loss of both eyes and the left arm below the elbow when a booby trap detonated while he was on a combat mission Feb. 13.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Labory, 3034 Myrtle Ave., said a telegram delivered Thursday reported their son's condition "is showing normal improvement; however, he is seriously ill. His condition is satisfactory and his morale is good. The period of hospitalization is indefinite and at present evacuation is not contemplated."

In addition to the official telegram, a letter dictated by the wounded GI to a Red Cross worker in Vietnam arrived last week. In the message, Sgt. Labory sent word to his family "not to worry, I am doing fine."

The servicemen's mother said he had undergone surgery for a second time since incurring the wounds on patrol with his Infantry unit. A tracheotomy was performed earlier. Sgt. Labory also suffered a fractured leg in addition to the more serious injuries. He has served in Vietnam since last Nov. 16.

HENRY MAZER
Symphony Conductor

Chicago Symphony Sets Two Concerts at Campus

The Chicago Symphony Orchestra-university will play two concerts at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern March 2 and 3, conducted by Henry Mazer, associate conductor of the orchestra.

The residency at SIU-SW is made possible by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council as part of its "Arts to the People" program, in cooperation with SIU-SW, the Belleville Philharmonic Orchestra and Belleville School District 201.

Concerts will be in the Meridian Ballroom in the University Center at 8:15 p.m. Admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Tickets are on sale at the University Center on the campus and through the Belleville Philharmonic Orchestra. The ballroom can seat 1,118 for each performance.

List Programs
The March 2 concert will include Mozart's Divertimento in D Major, K. 231, Beethoven's Symphony No. 1, Ravel's Introduction and Allegro and Ibert's Divertissement.

On the following night the orchestra will play Medtella on Ecclesiastes by Delio Jolo, Prokofiev's Classical Symphony, Wagner's Siegfried Idyll and Franck's Symphonic Variations. Mary Sauer, the orchestra's pianist, will be the soloist in Franck's Symphonic Variations.

The Chicago Symphony Orchestra, founded in 1891, is the third oldest in the United States. Georg Solti, a native of Hungary, became the music director and conductor in 1969. He is also musical director at the Royal Opera House in London. This summer the orchestra is scheduled to make a six-week tour of nine countries and 15 cities in Europe.

Named Associate
Henry Mazer was named associate conductor of the orchestra last year. Previously he served four years as associate conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony, Mazer, a Pittsburgh native, joined the Pittsburgh orchestra in the early 1940's as a pianist. In 1948 he became conductor of the Wheeling, W. Va., Symphony, and in 1958 he was named conductor of the Florida Symphony Orchestra in Orlando. He returned to the Pittsburgh Symphony as associate conductor in 1966.

Mazer studied music privately and attended Carnegie-Mellon University and Duquesne University. In 1938 he studied with composer-violinist Georges Enesco in Paris.

Mazer conducted the Pittsburgh Symphony in two concerts in Carnegie Hall in the 1969-70 season.

Members of the orchestra will conduct master classes, clinics and reading rehearsals during the residency.

Concert Choral Here Performs in Festival

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's Concert Choral participated Saturday in the third annual college invitational festival at Illinois State University in Normal.

The festival, which featured 12 Illinois colleges and universities, was inaugurated at SIU-SW two years ago under the leadership of Leonard Van Camp, director of choral activities.

The choral also gave a formal concert Friday at Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington. Excerpts from the program were at MacMurray College in Jacksonville.

The 40-voice Concert Choral was formed six years ago. Students are selected by audition. Membership includes music majors and persons from other academic areas of the university, according to Van Camp. Each spring the group takes a brief tour of Illinois.

Van Camp, who joined the SIU faculty at Edwardsville eight years ago, has featured guest appearances as a festival conductor and clinician. He was named Illinois state president of the American Choral Directors Association in 1969 and has been named chairman for the national convention of ACDA, to convene in Kansas City in March.

$1.3 Million Wages Due 5,430 Workers

The U. S. Department of Labor has announced that its Wage and Hour Division found $1,326,976 due to 5,430 workers in Illinois under the Fair Labor Act during the last six months of 1970.

Donald H. Haack, Acting Regional Director of the Wage and Hour Division, said investigators discovered $308,623 due as a result of failure to pay the Federal minimum wage and $935,353 in unpaid overtime.

Wage and hour investigators also found $79,445 in underpayments under the Equal Pay Act, which prohibits discrimination based on sex.

Violations of the Age Discrimination in Employment Act cost employees $3,245, investigators found, and 111 minors were discovered to be employed in violation of child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The Federal minimum wage for most workers is $1.60 an hour. The Fair Labor Standards Act requires time and a half in overtime rate after 40 hours for most workers covered by its provisions.

SIU Staff Assembles Faculty, Program For Medical School 'Without Walls'

In Springfield, Dean Richard Moy and a small staff are working to assemble a faculty and arrange a clinical program for two-thirds of Southern Illinois University's medical school without walls.

On the Carbondale Campus of SIU, two bare offices in a science building are aglow as two other dedicated souls see the light of reality growing bright. They are working on the other third of the school, finding science classrooms and labs and teachers willing and ready to help make a dream come true.

Dr. Eli Borkon, once associated with the SIU Health Service, presently is half-time assistant to Dean Moy and also holds the title of clinical professor. His job is to pave the way for the opening of medical classes here, to help integrate the medical curriculum with existing ones, to establish working agreements with area doctors, hospitals and clinics, and to answer questions pouring in from curious adults and prospective students.

Dr. Borkon is continuing all his previous association such as with the Carbondale Clinic and Doctors Hospital, but time limits this work mostly to that of consultant.

Integrating Courses
Dr. William Kabish, the other half of the current medical staff at SIU Carbondale, is acting associate medical dean for Carbondale. Much of his work at this point is similar to that of Dr. Borkon, but Dr. Kabish is full time and his particular interest is the integration of the medical school courses with existing ones at Carbondale.

The medical school without walls is so called because, to the extent possible, precious time will be saved—and millions of dollars—by using existing facilities rather than building all new ones, including a university hospital.

Springfield was selected for the major clinical site because the two hospitals there have a total of 1400 beds which provide a wide variety of cases. Working agreements with these hospitals have been arranged. Students will go there following a basic year of study at Carbondale.

Dr. Borkon points out, however, that first-year students while at Carbondale will be exposed to clinical medicine. For this purpose, he sees the Carbondale area as ideal because of the number and variety of patients available.

Hospitals Available
Just for starters, there are: Doctors Hospital, Carbondale, with 180 beds, and Marion Veterans Hospital with 184.

While the task of getting started appears to be overwhelming, all of the persons now involved are enthusiastic. Beyond the multidisciplinary problems, they see a new medical school that will benefit Southern Illinois particularly, not only with more doctors but also more medical assistants in a great variety of health related fields.

Dr. Borkon is encouraged because day after day he is receiving letters and calls not only from persons with questions but also with genuine offers of assistance.

The one great obstacle is time. The first medical school class will be selected in 1971 with classes starting in the summer of 1972, but even with time-saving programs being established, members of that first class will not begin medical practice before 1976 after only one year of residency. Some residencies with special training may be for three or more years.

Says Dean Moy, "We should have started 20 years ago."

MORE ABOUT Award Winners

75th Anniversary Celebration of Granite City

Hospital-School
Eliemman's achievements in connection with educational programs at St. Elizabeth Hospital in conjunction with the local school district, Southern Illinois University-Southern campus and Olin Vocational School in Alton, also were cited.

He is a member of the SIU-SW Advisory Board of the Division of Nursing, and works closely with local school authorities in special educational programs offered at the hospital. Eliemman, who is unmarried, earned his master's degree in Hospital Administration at the University of Colorado, Denver, Colo. He previously was employed as a Unit Manager and later Administrator at St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago.

OYE Winner
Described by Supt. of Schools B. J. Davis as "having great potential as an education administrator," the OYE recipient was graduated from Granite City High School. He received his bachelor's degree at Emmanuel College and his master's degree at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, where he majored in Education Administration with a minor in Special Education.

Brinkhoff started in the local school system in 1961 as a fifth grade teacher at Wilson School. Later, he taught sixth grade classes at Nantoket School, before joining the staff at Parkview Elementary School, teaching at the intermediate level. The educator served as assistant director and director of the Gifted Children's Program in the district, as well as director of the Service and Demonstration Center at Parkview. Among several experimental teaching programs at the center, a state-financed pilot operation, youngsters are provided instruction on an individual basis.

Brinkhoff, who is married and the father of a daughter, frequently conducts workshops and conferences throughout the state and advises officials in other school districts how to implement similar programs.

An added highlight to the Jaycees' annual DSA-OYE banquet was presentation of several awards to Mizerski, who was named earlier this year to the first offensive team of Parade Magazine's All American High School Football Squad.

The 6-foot, 2-inch, 250-pound lineman who is considered one of the brightest college prospects this year, was presented an inscribed plaque by the St. Louis Cardinal player in behalf of the Jaycees. The high school star also received the key to the city from Mayor Partney and plaques from the Chamber of Commerce Youth Committee, presented by Phillip Dorch and the Granite City Police Department, presented by Police Chief Ronald Veizer.

The latter award was given in relation to Mizerski's membership in an Explorer Scout Post sponsored by the local police department.

Special guests on hand to witness the presentation were the youthful athlete's parents, GCHS Coach Wayne Williams, Principal Lawrence McCauley and several members of the high school coaching staff and administration.

Serving as judges for this year's DSA-OYE awards were G. H. Sternberg, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk and Arvin Slate Jr., winner of the DSA honor in 1969.

Past DSA recipients are Boyd Presley, 1962; Slate, 1968; Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr., 1967; Loren Davis, 1966; William Thoele, 1965; William F. Winter, 1964; Earl Dotzauer, 1963; Robert D. Todoroff, 1962; Arthur Wierzer, 1961; and Earl Parsons, 1960.

Winners of the Outstanding Young Educator Award which has been conferred only the past four years, include: James Jeffries, 1969; Mrs. Carol Lynn Singleton, 1968; Alfred J. Wilson, 1967; and Supt. of Schools B. J. Davis, 1966.

City is Bound by Present Engineer Pact -- Moerlien

The controversial issue of employing a consulting city engineer to handle planning and engineering on a proposed new secondary sewage treatment plant and construction of interceptor sanitary sewers is expected to be revived by the Granite City council.

A proposal by the council's Pollution Plant Committee that the city hire the David Johnston Co. of East St. Louis prompted more than an hour of argument in last week's council session and ended with deferment of the proposal, ending further discussion until this week's council session.

Altemus Charles Moerlien of the Fifth Ward who called for assignment of the sewage plant project to the city's present consulting engineers, Research Planning & Design Associates, denied in a statement today that any relative or his wife is employed or officially connected with Research Planning as charged by Mayor Partney in the meeting last week.

Moerlien maintains that under a contract approved by the city council last August, the city is legally bound to give the engineering job on the treatment plant to Research Planning. In his statement, Moerlien said, "There is no relative of myself or my wife employed or connected officially with the firm of Research Planning and Design Associates, Inc., the city's present consulting engineers. Research Planning & Design Associates, Inc. is incorporated in the State of Illinois."

"Mayor Partney now mentions the seriousness of delays in order to comply with the deadline date of April 30 for the filing of a preliminary engineering report on the city proposals for secondary sewage treatment and interceptor sewers. Who has brought about a delay?"

"Under date of March 5, 1970 (almost a year ago) Mr. Kleberger, president of Research Planning and Design, Inc., the Pollution Plant Committee, which is on file, advising of the necessity of planning for secondary treatment of sewage."

"Again on Jan. 2, 1971, (six weeks ago) immediately after the State of Illinois set up a deadline of April 30, 1971 for the filing of preliminary engineering proposals for secondary treatment of sewage and interceptor sewers, so as to qualify for an 80% grant from state and federal sources, Mr. Kleberger forwarded a proposed contract for secondary treatment facilities and interceptor sewers. This has been completely ignored by the Mayor."

"To the best of my knowledge the terms of the consulting engineer contract approved by the city council Aug. 24, 1970 have been complied with by the firm of Research Planning and Design Associates, Inc. and I know of no failure by the firm's ability to plan an efficient and economical secondary treatment facility."

Mr. Kleberger has been repeatedly used by the city consulting engineers in numerous conferences with the Army Corps of Engineers, Civil Defense Officials and Officials of Emergency Preparedness on one questions Mr. Kleberger as representing the City of Granite City as consulting engineer.

14,390 Enrollment Proposed at SIU-SW

An enrollment limitation of 14,390 students is proposed for Southern Illinois University-Southern campus, a draft of an updated master plan prepared by the Illinois Board of Higher Education disclosed. The enrollment ceiling is only 690 students more than SIU-SW's current student population of 13,700.

Public hearings on the master plan for Illinois public universities are scheduled for March 15, at Sunset Hills Holiday Inn, and on March 16 in Carbondale. The third phase in the master plan also reveals a study will be conducted on the feasibility of constructing additional campus facilities in East St. Louis and four other areas.

The 14,390 enrollment ceiling recommended for SIU-SW specifies 12,680 undergraduate students and 1,710 graduate students. Undergraduate enrollment this year at the local area campus is 11,149 students, plus 2,551 graduate students.

Vadalabene Urges Study of Rural Telephone Service

State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) has introduced legislation to set up a joint Senate-House Committee to study Rural Telephone Service.

The similar committee was formed by the last session of the General Assembly due to Vadalabene's initiative. Largely as a result of the committee's action, the Illinois Commerce Commission ordered an upgrading of rural service and elimination of excessive multiple party lines by 1974.

Senator Vadalabene said the continuation of the investigation into rural telephone service was important for two reasons. First, the recent General Order issued by the Commerce Commission has not been implemented. The Committee can function as a "Watchdog" to see that it is carried out. Second, the new General Order will not take care of all of the difficulties encountered by rural subscribers; the matter of unwarranted outages, unreasonable jurisdictions which result in one neighbor having to place a toll call to the house next door and commercial problem of rural phone service usage of party lines all need further examination, according to Vadalabene.

Vadalabene explained that the committee he is proposing would have both Senate and House members because the members of the House whose districts are smaller. "In my opinion, this is not the case," said Vadalabene. "The scope of service is broader than isolated farms or towns. It touches communities of all sizes and affects a very large share of the State's citizens outside of metropolitan areas. With members of both houses and the continued support of citizens throughout Illinois, we will get something done." The Committee would report December 31, 1972.

The resolution to establish the joint committee was referred to the Senate Executive Committee for hearing.

Ill. Education Group To Meet in Chicago

The 117th annual meeting of the Illinois Education Association Feb. 25-27 will be a potpourri of old and new, according to President W. Dwight Knott of Glen Ellyn. Participants will include Miss Margaret Barker, 3306 Franklin Ave., Jane Welch, 2100 Pontoon Road, Richard Marcus, 3917 Village Lane, and former Granite City School Supt. Paul A. Grigaby, Fayette, Mo., a past IEA president.

The three-day convention of the state's oldest and largest education organization has been moved to the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel. In its second year as a February meeting, more than 800 delegates will establish policy for the coming year, examine legislative priorities, and consider the adoption of a new constitution.

The proposed charter would replace the existing 21-division state organization with a new regional concept operated by regional councils and centering on area field offices. The setup is designed to provide maximum service and participation for local units.

Delegates also will examine a program of state legislative priorities. The first general session Thursday evening is scheduled to be a working affair, replacing the old banquet session. It will feature the president's address, reports, media awards and the Francis G. Blair award.

Named for a former superintendent of public instruction and state education leader, the award is presented annually to a lay person who has made a distinguished contribution to education. Past recipients include former Federal Communications Commissioner Newton Minow.

Careless driving charges were filed against Ernest C. Halbert, 66, of 2520 Adams St., whose auto was struck by a Granite City Steel Co. engine at 11:50 a.m. Friday on 21st Street. Police said Halbert, traveling west on 21st Street, reported he failed to see the train and made a U-turn in the roadway. His auto was struck by the engine then hit a fence post. The report stated, Joe Fox, GCS engineer, said flasher lights were operating and Conductor C. O. Jackson was flagging traffic at the time of the accident.

9 Local Ex-Servicemen Get Jaycee Certificates

Nine local ex-servicemen were among the first group of ex-servicemen to receive "Certificates of Appreciation" from the Granite City Jaycees, in ceremonies last week at the Jaycees Clubhouse on Popular Street.

Those awarded the appreciation citations by Jaycee President David Partney were Charles Angle, Tom Talley, Eddie Lane, Walter Marsh, Richard Heatherly, Don Wofford, Pat Nesbit, Dick Kiser and James L. Holland.

The brief recognition ceremony conducted during a regular meeting of the young men's service club is the first of several similar programs expected to take place in future months, according to Dan Partney, chairman of the Jaycees' Veterans' Assistance project and a Vietnam returnee.

The Veterans' Assistance program started here last May and adopted earlier by the U. S. and Illinois Jaycees has several basic aims, the chairman said. "First we want to let the returning servicemen know that the time he gave up for his country is deeply appreciated by the Jaycees and others in the community," Partney said. He reported that each veteran who can be reached will be contacted by the Jaycees and invited to attend a club function. They also will be invited to join the organization at a reduced dues rate.

In addition, discharged servicemen seeking employment will be assisted when possible. Those in need of special services or information will be acquainted with various service-health-welfare agencies in the Quad-City area, the project chairman noted.

Relatives and friends of returning servicemen are invited to contact the Granite City Jaycees by writing to Post Office Box 5, Granite City, or by calling Dave Partney, at 876-3462.

Organizations and individuals, including prospective employers, interested in learning more about the veteran's assistance and appreciation program, also may contact the Jaycees for details, Partney said.

Laclede Steel Reports 1970 Earnings Losses

Laclede Steel Co. lost $4,909,333, or $23.80 per share, in operations last year, compared with a loss of $3,066,789, or $14.87 per share last year, according to a financial report by the company.

Among major costs was scrap steel which cost the company $7 million more than in 1969, and which wiped out the gain of $5,370,583 in net sales which went up to $93,420,478. The company, however, was able to negotiate a postponement of 1971 and 1972 long-term debts to spread out the payments over a period of years.

Paul B. Akin, president, said the company anticipates no difficulty in meeting the rearranged payments.

Venice Aims at District Crown

The Venice High School Red Devils will try for their eighth consecutive district title Tuesday, as they face Dupu at Columbia in the opening round of the district tournament at 7 p.m.

Red Devil fans saw Venice win last year's district championship 66-63 over O'Fallon. The lead in that game changed four times during the last two minutes.

Doug Johnson sank his only field goal of the evening, a 20 footer, with 36 seconds left. Andre Johnson was fouled with 7 seconds left in the game and made two one pointers for Venice.

After winning the district last year the East St. Louis Flyers stopped Venice in the first game of the regional tournament 77-60.

When asked what style of play the Devils were going to use in the district this year, Venice Basketball Coach Bill Ohlendorf simply stated, "We're going to do a lot of running, pressing with a man-to-man, and trying to score more points than the other team."

If the Red Devils win Tuesday they will play at 7 p.m. Thursday against the winner of an O'Fallon-St. Henry (Belleville) tilt.

4 Warrior Wrestlers Head for State Meet

A winning streak of 17 straight sectional wrestling tournament victories ended Saturday at Granite City placed second behind Springfield Southeast, but four wrestlers qualified for the state finals.

Advancing to the state tournament will be champions Bruce Miller (105) and Rich Sajak (145), and runners-up Mike Garland (118) and Doug Wilson (126).

Loss By 3 Points
The Warriors finished the Wood River sectional only three points behind winner Springfield Southeast, 50-47, and were five points above East St. Louis Lincoln with 42 points.

Other team scores were: Jacksonville 30, Decatur MacArthur 22, Bellevue East 19, East St. Louis 16, Stephen Decatur 13, Mattoon 12, Springfield Lanphier and Quincy 11, Cahokia and Bethalto Civic Memorial 9, Springfield 7, Mount Zion, Pleasant Plains and Wood River 6, Warrensburg 5, Decatur Eisenhower and Mount Olive 2, and Alton, Bellevue West, Carbondale, Carmi, Mascoutah and Shelbyville 1.

Teams leaving the tournament were Centralia, Jacksonville, Lawrenceville, O'Fallon and Roxana.

Streak Ended
The loss ended the winning streak for the Warriors of 17 sectional victories which set a state record, but their records continue for having been in the top two at the tournament since 1947 and having been in the top three at sectional meets since the inception of the sectional system in 1939.

Granite City also qualified an alternate to the State Finals, 167 pounder Mike Wilson.

The champions required three successful matches for their reservations to the state meet, but Garland and Wilson found the road a bit longer as after losing in the championship round they had to wrestle the winners of the losers bracket in each weight class to qualify.

The state tourney will begin at 1 p.m. Friday in the Assembly Hall of the University of Illinois, Champaign. The second round matches are set for 7:30 p.m.

Granite City will feature the semifinals and wrestling finals at 1 p.m., consolation finals at 6 p.m. and the championship bouts at 7:30 p.m.

4 Eliminated
Warriors eliminated in the first round Friday were Tom Eaton (132), Charles Mayfield (138), Rick Wickham (155) and Tom Hill (185).

Southeast qualified a total of five wrestlers, one more than Granite City and two for the state finals. Jacksonville qualified two wrestlers and Lanphier, Quincy, Bellevue East, East St. Louis, Cahokia, Stephen Decatur, Bethalto, Mattoon and MacArthur each qualified one.

Voluntary Cooperative Action Can Give Community 'Forward Thrust'

By ARCH N. BOOTH, Executive Vice-President
Chamber of Commerce of the United States

There are certain things which the government can do, and which no other institution can, toward solving the social and economic problems. The government, for instance, can pass needed laws. It can appropriate money for welfare, urban renewal, education, crime control, and so on. But, by itself, it cannot do everything that needs to be done.

The same thing is true, of course, for the private sector. The private sector can move people to think and to act. It can build character, accountability into people—essential ingredients for creating a better society. But by itself, the private sector cannot do everything that needs to be done.

To deal effectively with the present situation, the government and the private sector must each make its own contribution. And both must work together on a partnership basis.

In the field of business and industry, the part of the private sector which I am most familiar, I find that the voluntary organizations are more active today than ever before in facing up to urban problems—and are cooperating more closely than ever before with government.

In every city of any size, there is a Chamber of Commerce, and in every industry, there is a trade association—well established voluntary organizations with long experience in getting things done through united effort.

The National Chamber federation brings these voluntary busi-

New University Chairman Harold R. Fischer Has the Needed Skill, Judgment, Experience

Election of Harold R. Fischer, Granite City banker, as chairman of the Southern Illinois University board of trustees places the leadership in highly capable, experienced hands at a time when the university could well use such "sure hands on the throttle."

With Governor Ogilvie distributing board positions to men residing throughout the state, rather than restricting his appointments to the former unofficial territorial limits of the southern portion of Illinois, it will be helpful to the university to have a presiding officer who is familiar with the immediate area of operation. Two principal campuses, Mr. Fischer has resided for the past three decades in the Quad-Cities, the community which provides the biggest number of students at the university.

Issues facing the board include resolving the chancellor issue raised by the governor, the task of familiarizing the four relatively new trustees with existing and proposed programs, implementation of Dental School and Medical School planning, completion of procedural improvements to aid construction cost control, and achievement of the state financing needed to more effectively finance higher education needs of this region.

There is widespread confidence that the reorganized SIU board will be equal to these tasks, and it is off to a good start with its selection of a new chairman.

But it is interesting to note that the astronauts frequently committed the classic error of permitting the photographer's shadow to intrude onto the scene.

Assails Use of Tax to Notify Family of Soldier Under Vietnam

To the Editor:

I am sorry to say, "Well, it happened again." I am referring to the local soldier who was wounded in action, losing his eyesight plus part of his arm and suffering a leg injury.

It is sad to read that a taxi cab driver delivered the message. I have written about this matter before.

If we can get men on the moon at the right time, and get them back at the right time, why can't a little be spent in trying to comfort a family in incidents like this poor man's wife and family had to go through.

A preacher or some Army officer should have delivered the message. When the telegram was received, action should have been taken to get someone other than a taxi driver.

We have veterans' organizations in this town also that could help matters. But I still believe that a preacher, or an officer of the service, or a member of the community should deliver such sad news.

I hope this never happens again, and my prayers go to the family of Sgt. Ronald E. Laborsky Jr. who was wounded in action in Vietnam on Feb. 13.

I believe that the soldier should be flown to a hospital near home, like Scott Field, or to where his wife and family could visit him. I would send good luck to all our boys in the service; they need it.

Retirement Income Credit Computed by Revenue Service in Some Cases

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q Is it true IRS will figure the tax and the retirement income credit for taxpayers this year?

A Yes, as long as certain conditions are met. Briefly, these are that your income is $20,000 or less, and consists entirely of wages, salaries, tips, dividends, interest, pensions and annuities.

You must also take the standard deduction.

The IRS will compute your tax on page 2 of the instructions and mail your return to the IRS Service Center.

Any retirement income credit you are entitled to will be computed where the proper lines on Schedule R are filled in.

Be sure to attach Schedule R and other necessary Schedules to your Form 1040.

After we compute your tax, you will either receive a refund or bill for additional tax due.

Q What's the maximum Social Security tax for 1970? I had two jobs and I think I paid too much.

A The maximum Social Security tax is $74.40 for 1970. If more than that was withheld from your wages because you had more than one employer last year, enter the excess on line 10 of Form 1040. This is explained in the 1040 instructions.

Q You are including the cost of a house hunting trip with other moving expenses for income tax purposes?

A Yes, under certain conditions.

For details on moving expenses, send a postcard to the IRS district office and ask for Publication 521 and a copy of Form 9803.

Q I must be completely sent in with your return if you claim this deduction.

A No, you can deduct it on your return.

Q I drive several hundred miles a week going back and forth from my home in the city to my job in the country. Can I deduct anything?

A Commuting costs are a personal expense and not deductible.

However, you may deduct the state and local gasoline taxes

Sewer Repair Costs at a Shocking Level and Additional Breaks Could Occur in the System

The compilation showing that $2,408,663 has been spent repairing the $1,844,531 Nankin sewer system is shocking and disturbing. Over two-thirds of the repair costs have occurred since the rains and flooding of mid-1969, and new breaks are still occurring and may continue.

The preventive maintenance program outlined at last week's Granite City council meeting would involve additional expenditures. The question city officials must answer is whether it would be money well spent—whether it would reduce the unfortunate sewer problem to manageable proportions.

If maintenance costs now would render unnecessary big additional repairs in the future, "throwing good money after bad" could be justified.

The municipality and its residents and taxpayers have been dealt a cruel blow by the inability of the original sanitary system to function without regard to rainfall saturation of the adjacent ground.

While there should be no direct connection, it undoubtedly would help the situation if more Nankin sewer lines were installed, reducing the ground water level.

Voters have resisted such proposals in the past. They and their pocketbooks may see it differently now.

Weight a Factor in Illnesses of the Aged

Women now outlive men by more than seven years, with a life expectancy at birth of 73.8 years against 66.7 years for males. And the life expectancy for women is still increasing, and at a faster rate than for men. But both sexes could further increase their longevity if more advanced overeating, which researchers of the Veterans Administration call one of the most serious problems of aging.

Although many "senile citizens" on a fixed income have limited food budgets, a study has shown that over 50% of men over 65 and 47% of the women are more than 10% over their optimal weight. The report is based on nationwide VA research on aging and care of geriatric patients; 16% of the patients in the 166 veterans' hospitals are over 65.

To help avoid or postpone many of the physical illnesses associated with old age, it is believed that the elderly reduce their caloric intake, especially with regard to fat, and eat more proteins.

Diet suggestions include mixing dry skim milk or dry yeast into one's food. Milk is called the best food for later life; among the plant foods, wheat is the best for soy beans. Brewer's yeast, which can be taken before meals, is described as one of the richest natural sources of both protein and water-soluble vitamins.

Research is being spotlighted because the portion of the U.S. population over age 65 has doubled in this century, from 4.1% or three million in 1900 to 9.5% or 19 million today.

Persons who purchased tobacco products, other than cigars, from Illinois sellers between Jan. 1, 1969, and Jan. 17, 1970, will be happy to hear a total of $2.1 million in taxes on the products during that period is being refunded. Cigarette taxes are not included.

The money was collected under the 1969 Illinois Tobacco Products Tax Act. Taxes were collected at the rate of 20% of the wholesale price of the tobacco products.

Groups of small businesses, including wholesalers, distributors, and retailers across the state, considered the Act unconstitutional and challenged it successfully in the courts.

Through their efforts, the Act was found unconstitutional by the Circuit Court of Cook County, Tax Division.

The court ruled that the Illinois Act violated the interstate commerce clause of the United States Constitution. The money was ordered to be refunded.

Those persons or companies who paid the tax and are eligible for refunds are: 1) Manufacturers—if they didn't pass the tax on to a wholesale distributor, retailer or purchaser; 2) Wholesale Distributors—if they didn't transfer it to the retailer; 3) Retailers—if they didn't pass it on to a purchaser.

Groups of small businesses, including wholesalers, distributors, and retailers across the state, considered the Act unconstitutional and challenged it successfully in the courts.

Revised Capital Gain Tax Laws Can Both Help, Hurt Investors

(Fourth in a series of articles by the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants offering advice on filing 1970 Federal income tax returns.)

With the number of stock market investors having risen above 31 million in 1970, the stock market having grown as it did, more income taxpayers than ever before will be affected by the revised tax laws covering capital gains and losses.

Long-term capital gains and losses realized in 1970, which will be reported by investors on their 1970 returns, are subject by April 15, 1971, to new rules that may adversely affect taxpayers in medium and upper brackets.

The tax ceiling of 25%, exclusive of the surcharge which applied for 1970 but has now expired, continues to apply to long-term gains, but is reduced to 20% on gains exceeding $25,000 for a married taxpayer filing a separate return.

And the tax on long-term gains above $50,000 (or above $25,000 for a married taxpayer filing a separate return) is scheduled to go up even more.

After 1971, half of such gains will have to be counted as regular income. The top bracket on regular income is still 70%, so that after 1971 the ceiling on each year's long-term gains over the $50,000 or $25,000 mark will be 35%.

However, starting in 1970 there may be a small additional tax credit at the rate of $1,000 a year until the entire loss has been written off.

Effective with long-term losses incurred in 1970, two dollars of loss are required for each dollar of deduction.

Thus, in order to deduct the $1,000 of loss allowable in one year, it is necessary to have incurred $2,000 of long-term losses. Pre-1970 long-term losses are still fully deductible at the rate of $1,000 a year until the entire loss has been written off.

Short-term losses incurred in 1970 or those carried over from previous years can still be applied to the deduction of short-term gains against ordinary income dollar-for-dollar up to the $1,000 maximum deductible in any year.

With unusually large long-term gains for 1970 in some cases, these new rules under new, more liberal conditions for averaging. That is the subject of the next discussion.

Building Materials from Ashes

(American Chemical Society)

Incinerator ashes have been made into good quality bricks and cement by a relatively simple and inexpensive laboratory process.

"Last year, an estimated $3 billion was spent to dispose of 150 million tons of urban garbage," reports Dr. P. E. D. Morgan of the Franklin Institute Research Laboratories, Philadelphia.

"Between 1965 and 2000, New York alone will produce enough to fill a bathtub 100 feet deep, 36 feet wide."

Dumping sites for Philadelphia's six incinerators have been filled up, and hauling the ashes by railroad would require 3,500 gondola cars each year. With such quantities involved, only very large-scale use of municipal incinerator ash can be of much help, he believes.

Attractive-looking bricks with greater tensile strength than that of average bricks can be formed from incinerator residue which has been ground into powder, oxidized completely and consolidated into bricks by heating, he reported. Little modification of existing brick works would be necessary to produce these new building products.

Cement of greater strength than Portland cement has been produced by mixing the completely oxidized incinerator powder with the proper proportions of lime and water, he said.

Road aggregate has been made from incinerator residue by partial melting or "slagging" in an arc furnace, Dr. Morgan said.

Because municipal waste supplies contain much glass, the slagging process can be performed directly on incinerator residue without treating it further or adding extraneous material. About 65% of the residue is separated in the slagging process and can be recovered.

The economics of the process is under study at this time, said Dr. Morgan, who is working on a model.

More than enough energy is produced in the burning of municipal waste to supply the heat for the slagging process. This estimate takes into consideration heat losses and losses involved in electrical power generation.

Present costs of adding equipment to the incinerator to produce slag would balance the cost of getting rid of incinerator residue, he said.

But in five or ten years, the economics of the process is expected to become highly favorable.

"One possibility is to convert the ash to a material that can be employed for road asphalt and also as a fill for concrete," Morgan commented.

"Philadelphia uses such aggregate to the extent of 200,000 tons per year, which compares well with the present production of 165,000 tons of ash, as mentioned. Of the eight largest cities in the U.S., only New York produces more ash than could be used for road aggregate within the city."

25 Years Ago Road-Wear Harlem Globe Trotters Defeat Fleishman Quintet, 41-39

February 22, 1946

An exhausted, road-wear and ill Harlem Globe Trotters professional basketball team failed to live up to advance expectations as the visiting squad took a close, 41-39 decision over the Fleishman quintet before a sell-out crowd of 1,000 at the Community High School auditorium.

Community High School's grueling road schedule of seven games a week left the team scant time to rest and forced it to let up during the game and spend much of the usual comical and unorthodox method of play.

Every time the Globe Trotters got the ball, one of the sharpshooters would make a long set shot; most of these missed in the early going. One exception was that since there are only five players, the possibility of an injury from moving the ball in under the basket is too great to be risked. The main difference between the first half, in which the Fleishman led, and the second half, when the Globe Trotters led, was the score and went on to win, was that early in the game the visitors made only five of about 30 shots and in the latter part they began hitting the hoop head over and over.

Cleo Johnson, the scoring ace, had such a bad head cold that he was not well enough to play. But his natural playing ability enabled him to connect with six of his 12 shots, to place second to Pedro Boyd, who poured in 20 points in the form of ten baskets from the middle of the court.

50 Years Ago GC Park District Created, Initial Board Members Selected by Voters

FEBRUARY 22, 1921

Creation of a Granite City park district carried by a vote of 238 to 13. The vote was 214 at McKinley School (Nankin Township) and 27-9 Emerson School (Venice Township).

Members chosen for the first park board were Martin G. Stank, John R. Kelahan, John W. Costley, William Schooley, and William M. Worthen. One of the main things that the board will have to dispose of is the menace of the 24th Street belt line railway.

Bureaucrats Ignored Rules When Highway Fund Freeze Was Ordered

J. FRED SCHLAFLY JR., Alton Attorney

Contractors and unions are being blamed for the two-and-one-half-year freeze on highway construction in Madison and St. Clair Counties. In my view, the blame lies squarely on the politicians for this freeze, which is so harmful to over a half-million citizens of both counties.

When the freeze was imposed in July 1968 by a Johnson Administration bureaucrat, he acted in flagrant violation of the Federal Civil Rights law.

This law requires that before such action is taken, the contractor must first be given a hearing. No such hearing was held.

The law also requires that reasons for fund cutoffs be submitted in a full written report to the United States Senate and House of Representatives. No such report was given.

Neither was a finding made, based on the hearing record, before the freeze was put into effect.

This same law also requires that the rule of "general applicability" for all 50 states be applied before any highway freeze is imposed. Yet, not one penny of highway money, 3,048 counties in the United States, only Madison and St. Clair Counties have the freeze.

The Illinois Highway Division claims the state has no legal justification for this freeze, which is so harmful to over a half-million citizens of both counties.

If the contractors and unions are discriminating, then they should be prosecuted under the Federal Fair Employment Practices Act. But it is grossly unjust to punish all Madison and St. Clair citizens for 21 months because of an unproved charge against some unions or contractors.

In the meantime, all taxpayers in Illinois are charged three and one-half cents on every gallon of gasoline we buy. That money is supposed to repair the state's pothole roads. Yet, Highway 140 in Madison County remains the single most dangerous highway in the state.

Illinois has the people of Madison and St. Clair Counties over $20 million worth of badly needed highway improvements already paid for by our gasoline taxes.

Unconstitutional Tobacco Taxes Yield $2.1 Million in Refunds

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

Persons who purchased tobacco products, other than cigars, from Illinois sellers between Jan. 1, 1969, and Jan. 17, 1970, will be happy to hear a total of $2.1 million in taxes on the products during that period is being refunded. Cigarette taxes are not included.

The money was collected under the 1969 Illinois Tobacco Products Tax Act. Taxes were collected at the rate of 20% of the wholesale price of the tobacco products.

Groups of small businesses, including wholesalers, distributors, and retailers across the state, considered the Act unconstitutional and challenged it successfully in the courts.

Through their efforts, the Act was found unconstitutional by the Circuit Court of Cook County, Tax Division.

The court ruled that the Illinois Act violated the interstate commerce clause of the United States Constitution. The money was ordered to be refunded.

Those persons or companies who paid the tax and are eligible for refunds are: 1) Manufacturers—if they didn't pass the tax on to a wholesale distributor, retailer or purchaser; 2) Wholesale Distributors—if they didn't transfer it to the retailer; 3) Retailers—if they didn't pass it on to a purchaser.

The bank was appointed as trustee of the fund by the court, and the money is being distributed to the refund payees.

All forms will be processed by computers and will be accessible immediately upon their receipt.

The court-approved funds will be distributed as soon as possible after the end of the filing period, March 1, 1971.

Revised Capital Gain Tax Laws Can Both Help, Hurt Investors

(Fourth in a series of articles by the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants offering advice on filing 1970 Federal income tax returns.)

With the number of stock market investors having risen above 31 million in 1970, the stock market having grown as it did, more income taxpayers than ever before will be affected by the revised tax laws covering capital gains and losses.

Long-term capital gains and losses realized in 1970, which will be reported by investors on their 1970 returns, are subject by April 15, 1971, to new rules that may adversely affect taxpayers in medium and upper brackets.

The tax ceiling of 25%, exclusive of the surcharge which applied for 1970 but has now expired, continues to apply to long-term gains, but is reduced to 20% on gains exceeding $25,000 for a married taxpayer filing a separate return.

And the tax on long-term gains above $50,000 (or above $25,000 for a married taxpayer filing a separate return) is scheduled to go up even more.

After 1971, half of such gains will have to be counted as regular income. The top bracket on regular income is still 70%, so that after 1971 the ceiling on each year's long-term gains over the $50,000 or $25,000 mark will be 35%.

However, starting in 1970 there may be a small additional tax credit at the rate of $1,000 a year until the entire loss has been written off.

Effective with long-term losses incurred in 1970, two dollars of loss are required for each dollar of deduction.

Thus, in order to deduct the $1,000 of loss allowable in one year, it is necessary to have incurred $2,000 of long-term losses. Pre-1970 long-term losses are still fully deductible at the rate of $1,000 a year until the entire loss has been written off.

Short-term losses incurred in 1970 or those carried over from previous years can still be applied to the deduction of short-term gains against ordinary income dollar-for-dollar up to the $1,000 maximum deductible in any year.

With unusually large long-term gains for 1970 in some cases, these new rules under new, more liberal conditions for averaging. That is the subject of the next discussion.

Friends of Museum Hear Talk on Pressed Glass

A program on pressed glass as a part of American folk art was presented by Mrs. William J. Tudor, of Edwardsville at a quarterly meeting of the Friends of the Madison County Historical Museum Thursday.

In her talk Mrs. Tudor discussed the history and early methods of blowing glass in this country and explained that some of the finest early glass was made in this area. She mentioned some of the earliest manufacturers and quoted from articles by Eric Pyle on glass and glass blowing.

The origin, characteristics of pressed and blown glass were explained, and the first glass blowing by men brought here by Captain John Smith. The talk was illustrated with slides showing the various kinds of glass.

Mrs. Tudor displayed pieces from various eras, and different patterns and mentioned those that are particularly collectable at the present time.

At the business meeting following the talk it was announced that the group will hold its annual tour April 22 and visits will be made to historic spots in St. Charles, Mo. It also was noted that the Museum Library has been visited by twice as many people doing historical research in the last six months as in any comparable period since it was opened. Miss Katherine Morehead is the librarian.

Cub Pack 107 Holds Annual Blue And Gold Banquet at Venice

Cub Scout Pack 107 held its annual Blue and Gold banquet last week at the Venice Recreation Center. In keeping with the theme "Our American Heritage," and "Blue and Gold," the tables, each decorated differently, held centerpieces of the National Eagle, Cherry trees and rustic logs with huts.

The display table contained crafts made by the boys during the past year. Each guest received patriotic favors and desserts along with portions of Blue and Gold centered with an American Flag and Eagle on the cover.

The mothers received corsages of replica Cub Scout hats made by their sons. The audience was welcomed by Cubmaster Richard Foote Sr. After a reading of "Flag Tribute" by Tom Hooks, Explorer Post 104, Sgt. Ronald Grzywacz and his dog Sir Kelly, assisted by Patrolman Charles Bridick, went through the paces used when hunting a criminal or curtailing riots.

Certificates of Appreciation went to John Wise, committee-man, Dale Ramey, assistant district commissioner, Mike Ramey, Explorer Post 6, Lucille Kalerogor, secretary-treasurer of Pack 107, Terry Toth, Tom Hooks, Sgt. Grzywacz, Charles Bridick and Sir Kelly.

During an award ceremony by Foote, Robert Guenther received a 2-year service star. Daniel Young received a 1-year service star. Receiving Citizen Activity badges were Robert Guenther, Daniel Young and Derek Mathis. A Craftman Award of Light and a graduation certificate.

Mrs. Fassold received a replica pin of the award. Fassold was accepted into Troop 1 and presented with a scout neckerchief and slide by Floyd Jordan Jr., district training chairman representing Scoutmaster Jack

Possible Link Between Stress, Heart Disease

A possible link between mental stress and coronary artery disease has been cited at the annual scientific sessions of the American Heart Association.

A team of New York City investigators told of electrically stimulating animal brain centers and producing sudden increases in blood fats. Accumulation of fats in the arteries can lead to vessel damage and eventually to blockage, bringing on a heart attack.

Scientists have long suspected an intimate connection between heart disease and emotional stress.

There is evidence to show, for example, that high-strung, deadline-ridden persons are more vulnerable to a heart attack than the more relaxed individual. But whether this can be directly attributed to a "coupled-up" mental state is open to question.

To Dr. James W. Correll, spokesman for the research group from the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, the experimental results suggest how prolonged stress, by increasing the reservoir of available blood fat, could advance the development of atherosclerosis. This is a form of hardening of the arteries in which fats accumulate on the inside walls of blood vessels.

The Columbia team triggered mental activity in conscious dogs and cats 102 hours after a fat-rich feeding. During stimulation, which lasted no longer than four minutes, the clear plasma would turn milky, the result in part of an increase in blood fats—particularly a group of fats called triglycerides.

Two specific regions of the brain were stimulated through implanted electrodes—an area of the hypothalamus and the amygdaloid nucleus. The former governs such activities as sleep and regulation of blood pressure; the latter influences emotional activity, such as rage and fear.
